KKSU is ranked the topmost in Sanskrit Universities

Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University, Ramtek secured topmost position among Sanskrit Universities in India. KKSU also secured 6th position among Maharashtra Universities and 60th in the list of Indian Universities. A survey on 'India Government University Ranking 2020-21' by Education World Magazine from Bengaluru published this league table in their May 2020 issue.

KKSU tops Sanskrit varsities in country

■ Principal Correspondent

EDUCATION World, The Human Development Magazine Bengaluru has published India Government University Ranking 2020-21. According to this ranking, Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University (KKSU) has topped Sanskrit universities in the country. The university secures sixth position in all universities in Maharashtra while stood at 60th position in national ranking.

The ranking was decided on the basis of ten parameters. They include teachers' quality, teachers' development, research and innovation, curriculum and education system, industrial relations, employment, infrastructural facilities, identity at international level, leadership and administrative points.

The KKSU campus. (R) Dr Srinivasa Varakhedi, V-C of KKSU.

This achievement of KKSU is being hailed in all walks of life. Vice Chancellor Prof Shrinivasa Varakhedi said, "Getting top slot among all Sanskrit universities in India, by the ranking declared by Education World has motivated us. With this achievement we could tell everybody that KKSU can work like any other institution that runs professional courses. We want to prepare a good draft for which we need support from society, Government and others. This ranking is the beginning towards what we want to achieve. This is the success of our team work."

Registrar of Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University has congratulated Prof Varakhedi and all the team members. University is mulling over preparing plan as to how the work to be continued post-corona situation, expressed Vijay Kumar.

Prof Varakhedi is known for his flexible attitude. He has come up with several technological modes to run university. He has made KKSU digitally globalised. Internal workflow management system, digital meetings, webinar, on-line teaching, PhD oral examination have been globalised. KKSU is the first university in Maharashtra to adopt Integrated University Management System.

Prof Varakhedi took charge as Vice-Chancellor two years ago and changed the perspective. For the first time since its inception, KKSU has become more vibrant. He has focussed on academics, society oriented and research-based projects, administrative reforms for development of university.

"The success we get is not the goal or end of our journey. We are in the beginning. This is a good recognition. We have to maintain this. We will identify where we are lagging behind and we will correct it. All our goal is to give a message that Sanskrit Institutions can function like any professional institutions. We want to show a good model of it. We seek support from society, Government & others. We have long way to go and we will plan for that!"

Prof. Shrinivasa Varakhedi

Heartiest Congratulations to

Roadmap for Sanskrit Curriculum in India

Prof. Shrinivasa Varakhedi prepared Sanskrit curriculum draft for UGC

UGC LOCF for Sanskrit

The University Grants Commission initiated to develop skill based Learning Outcome Curriculum Framework (LOCF) for undergraduate and postgraduate level two years ago. In this regard, a committee was set up under the chairmanship of Prof. Shrinivasa Varakhedi, Vice- Chancellor of Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University to frame Sanskrit curriculum for graduate level. This committee offers skilled based Sanskrit courses on degree level and this report has been submitted to the University Grants Commission (UGC). The course was approved by the Commission and published recently.

Prof. Shrinivasa Varakhedi
Hon'ble Vice Chancellor, KKSU

It's a matter of pride for Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University, Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Shrinivasa Varakhedi has created an ideal model curriculum for Sanskrit in higher education across India. The credit goes to Prof Shrinivasa Varkhedi who made it happened with his untiring efforts and discussions with many Sanskrit experts. Prof. Varakhedi has prepared a roadmap with the help of committee members for Sanskrit curriculum. This roadmap gives new direction to Sanskrit Higher Education Field matching the needs of modern era.

Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University's Contribution to Kalidas Literature – A Bird's Eye View

(A special article paying rich tribute to Mahakavi Kalidasa on the occasion of Kalidas Din.)

Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University (KKSU) was established in Ramtek, Dist. Nagpur as a rich tribute to Raseshwar Kalidasa. As per the renowned Indologist Prof. Mirashi, Kalidasa was associated with Vidarbha, especially Ramtek, which was known as Ramagiri in the 4th Century ACE. The famous lyrical poem Meghadootam was written in Ramagiri and it brought world-wide fame to the Mahakavi Kalidasa. KKSU's objective is to not only study the well-revered poet's contributions to the world literature, but also to propagate and promote studies and research in the field of Sanskrit literature including the traditional Shastras and Darshanam. Ramgiri, Kalidas had composed a beautiful lyrical poem - Meghadootam which brought him name and fame all over the world.

In this direction, The main objective of Kalidas Sanskrit University is to propagate and promote study and research in Sanskrit and traditional Shastras.

The University has organized special programs, workshops, conferences, projects on Kalidas Literature.

Let's take a Bird's eye view of University's contribution to Kalidasa's Literature.

Kalidasa Day

The statue of Kalidasa, installed in the KKSU premises at Ramtek, is a regular reminder of his immortality and creativity flowing like a river. The first day of Ashadha is celebrated as the Kalidasa's day, as one of the most famous quotes from Meghadootam - “आषाढस्य प्रथमदिवसे मेघमाश्लिष्टसानुं वप्रक्रीडापरिणतगजप्रेक्षणीयं ददर्श।” has been one of the tag-lines for Kalidasa

On Kalidasa Day various programs are organized each year. Some of these programs are -

- Lecture series on various subjects,
- Poets Meet,
- Students Visit to Kalidas Smarak at Ramtek,
- Text-reading Workshops and
- Dance and Drama Presentations.

Following this tradition, in the year 2020 also KKSU organized all these programs.

This year (2020), the University's Sanskrit Language and Literature Department of KKSU has organized a Seven Day Text Reading Workshop on Meghadootam.. Prof. Nanda Puri, Dean, Faculty of Sanskrit & Other Languages, in her series of lectures, has explained the beauty of Meghadootam through her daily lectures to the students.

Kalidasa works - Marathi Translation

Marathi Translation of all the Literature of Kalidas was an ambitious project, which was conceptualized by Hon'ble VC Prof. Shrinivasa Varakhedi, has been completed and recently published in 7 Seven Volumes, and released at the hands of Hon'ble Governor and Chancellor of University Shri. Bhagatsing Koshyariji.

Eminent Scholars Prof. Nanda Puri, Prof. Madhusudan Penna, Dr Leena Rastogi, Prof. Kavita Holey, Dr Parag Joshi have contributed for these volumes while Dr. Shailaja Ranade, Dr Rajendra Jain, Dr Kaveri Jadhav, Dr. Rama Garge, Dr. Veena Ganu, Dr. Sambhaji Patil, Ms. Pallavi Kawale, Mrs. Mrudula Tapas, Dr. Pallavi Karve, Dr Renuka Bokare have translated this literature into Marathi.

Documentaries –

Documentaries on Kalidasa's Mahakavya Kumarsambhavam & Raghuvamsham in Sanskrit, Hindi & Marathi under the guidance of Prof. Uma Vaidya, Former VC, KKSU were released in 2019. These documentaries are admired by Sanskrit connoisseurs and scholars of Sanskrit. Hon'ble VC Prof. Varakhedi supervised and supported this project. Prof. C.G. Vijayakumar, Dean, Veda & Vyakarana, coordinated it successfully.

Conferences Organized –

Under the guidance of Prof. Uma Vaidya, Former VC of KKSU, University had organized special conferences to explore various shastras found in Kalidas Literature. These conferences have received good responses from scholars and researchers.

Kalidas Sahitye Shastra Shalaka conference was also organized in two parts in 2013 & 2014 on the occasion of Kalidas Din.

Ashtapailu Kalidas was organized in Kalidas Samaroha in 2015.

Research Contribution on Kalidas Literature –

In the faculty of Sanskrit & Other Languages, 18 students were awarded with a PhD degrees, out of in which 7 doctoral studies were conducted upon various dimensions of Kalidasa's Literature - such as like Human Philosophy, Moral Values, Shastra & Puranic references, Rituchakra –Seasonal changes in Vidarbha region, Supernatural Elements & Flora, Fauna from a scientific angle. (5 are awarded Ph.D. & 2 are in the process) . Now, there are 23 researchers still pursuing research for Ph.D. in this faculty.

In these conferences, various scholars all over India contributed research papers on Kalidas Literature at these conferences. These research papers exhibit mastery of Kalidasa's on various Shastras like Vaidik Thoughts, Etymology, Astrology, Agriculture, Geography, Meteorology, Pedagogy, Poetics, Yogic Science, Political Science, Ethics, Applied Arts, Makeup & Jewellery Art, Science of Metrics, Kamashastra, Warfare, Folk Literature, Dramaturgy, Environmental Science et aland other.

I am immensely happy to share that these doctoral studies and research papers have been able to explore 27 various Shastras, just through their studies on Kalidas Literature. This is astonishing to see that various shastras can so seamlessly come under Kalidasa's literature.

Various shastras come under one umbrella ---- that is Kalidasa's Literature.

Book Publication –

University has a vibrant publication wing. In the All India Oriental Conference, organized by KKSU in January-2020 this year, the University has published the Text of Abhijanashakuntalam, critically edited and examined by well-known Sanskrit Scholar Prof. Vasantkumar Bhatt, Ahmedabad, Gujrat. Prof. Bhatt had studied critically about 300 manuscripts of Abhijana-shakuntala and made edited version available to us. Another author Shri. B. K. Thakore's Shakuntal Text was also published in the conference. Apart from this Kalidas Samaroha Visheshank and Marathi Translation of Kalidas Literature in Seven Volumes were also published.

Maharashtra Govt's Mahakavi Kalidas Sanskrit Sadhana Puraskar –

Every year Rakhi Purnima is celebrated as Sanskrit Din. On this occasion, Maharashtra Government felicitates Sanskrit Scholars in Maharashtra in various categories and also felicitates One Sanskrit Scholar out of Maharashtra. The KKSU University executes the process of conferment of this award.

New Project – "Kalidasa on Internet" –

Prof. Varakhedi Hon'ble VC, KKSU, is a dynamic personality and always looks forward to new innovative projects. On this Kalidas Din, he has shared his new project - "Kalidasa on Internet". His goal is to make Kalidas available to one and all, in everyone's hand, on every tab.....so he has declared his next project as "Kalidasa on Internet".

In this digital era, Sanskrit's magnificent poet should be available in DIGITAL MODE for all, especially for the new generation. Of course, under the able and visionary guidance of Prof. Varakhedi, I am sure, the University will definitely accomplish this project with utmost dedication & devotion and take it to the fruitful conclusion of making Kalidasa globally available. There is a saying by an anonymous poet in Sanskrit as:

Kansthikadhiṣṭa Kalidasā anamikā sarthavatī babhūva (While counting the names of great poets, Kalidasa's name was taken first from the little finger. And since there was no second name the next finger i.e. Anaamikaa remained as nameless, true to its name in Sanskrit.)

Expanding practical popularity of Sanskrit

■ By Vijay Phanshikar

SANSKRITAM Path, Adhunik Bhava! - Learn Sanskrit, Be Modern! This motto of Sanskrit Bharati has begun reverberating in the minds of increasing numbers of people in Vidarbha, expanding greatly the community of what the organisation calls Sanskrit Kutumb - Sanskrit Families -- in which two or more people converse in Sanskrit language on an everyday basis with amazing efficiency and ease.

"On a 10-point scale, we can safely assert that we have risen to 6-7 points of our dreamed achievement," says Prof Vijay Kumar, Vidarbha Regional Secretary of Sanskrit Bharati, which has become a movement whose cognisance the whole country has been taking for the past couple of decades. "We have come to a stage when we now look forward to a future of tremendous influence for Sanskrit language in which all the intellectual and spiritual treasure of India is enshrined. In these efforts, our motto has made a major contribution. It attracts people, young and old, to learning Sanskrit," says Prof Vijay Kumar, who is also the

Dean of the Faculty of Vedvidya, Director of Board of Planning and Development, and Registrar

of Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University, Ramtek.

Like a man possessed, Prof Vijay Kumar is travelling to the nooks and corners of Vidarbha to expand the work of Sanskrit Bharati which is no longer just a not-for-profit organisation but has also turned into a world-wide movement in the past three decades. These efforts have made a lot of difference. The language that many described as a 'dead language' until a few years ago is now being considered a vibrant medium of practical communication in growing numbers of families in Vidarbha

-- and elsewhere in the country. "Sanskrit Bharati operates in 18-19 countries around the world. So effective has our work been that I did not have to use a single non-Sanskrit word in my travel to several cities in six states in the United States of America some time ago," Prof Vijay Kumar states in a upbeat tone.

"Of course, we realise that we have to travel a great distance to achieve the goal of our mission. All we can say now is that we have been able to achieve a very satisfying start. We will have to build from this point on. It is an uphill task and we will need lots of volunteers and full-time workers. But the real satisfaction is that the methodology we have adopted has succeeded.

"Previously, Sanskrit used to be taught in an awkward and unscientific manner. It used to be taught in different language-media -- such as Marathi, English, Hindi. That translation-mode was useless since studies in that fashion did not enable students to learn Sanskrit correctly. So, Sanskrit Bharati started using the universal wisdom of teaching Sanskrit in Sanskrit. That made learning of grammar (Contd on page 2)

HRD Ministry launches project to promote Indic knowledge

■ By Vijay Phanshikar
UNDATED 7.4.2020

THE Union Ministry of Human Resource Development has set in motion a vigorous process at the highest level to initiate 'research in Indian traditional knowledge systems'. Recognising that there are several persons, groups and institutions working in this area, the Ministry decided to set up a dedicated division to take the initiative further. A group of scholars, including Dr Anil Sahasrabudhe, Chairman of All India Council for Technical Education, and Dr Anil Joshi, has been nominated to drive the initiative.

A meeting held by Union HRD Minister Ramesh Pokhriyal 'Nishank' on March 18, 2020, in New Delhi identified following areas of traditional Indian knowledge to be promoted through the new project: Arts, Music, Dance, Drama, Culture, Agriculture, Water Harvesting, Health, Ayurveda, Nadi Pariksha, Yoga, Mathematics, Science and technology, Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Zoology, Astronomy, Energy Sources, Panchang, Civil Engineering, Architecture, Temple Architecture, Materials and Mechanical Engineering, Musical Instruments, Philosophy, Psychology, Geoarchaeology, Social Sciences, Management, Governance, Economics, Languages, Linguistics, Literature, Sports, Mantras, Genetics, Embryology, Gynaecology, Computational Sanskrit, Ancient Universities, Education etc. This initiative of the HRD Ministry has its genesis in a serious and widespread intellectual activity going on in the country for the past some time motivated by the thought that traditional knowledge of India has been comprehensive and needs not just to be preserved but also to be implemented and applied practically.

An informal grouping that is working in this area is being headed by Dr Vijay Bhatkar, the maker of Param super-computer. Dr Shrinivasa Varakhedi, Vice Chancellor of Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University, Ramtek; and Dr Sai Susarla, Dean of the School of Vedic Science at MIT, Pune, are other two members of the group whose stated mission is 'revive Indic thought and study of Sanskrit-based knowledge system for global welfare'.

"The idea is to put this vast resource of traditional knowledge into what we call Mission Mode. The idea is to push the knowledge traditionally available to India into the one of active implementation, like the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) did with its Moon Mission. It harnessed multiple disciplines for the stated mission. We wish to bring out the vast Sanskrit-based Indian knowledge out in the open for active use by promoting its serious studies and research", Dr Varakhedi told 'The Hitavada'. The group has called the effort 'Mission Sanjeevani'.

Dr Varakhedi said that much of the effort in this area so far was in the preservation mode, "as if we have to keep that vast knowledge somehow intact. That idea is passe". Now we wish to promote Indic culture and knowledge as an active tool in the hands of our country. The idea is also to ensure that all persons and groups and institutions that are already working for the cause are brought together so that the project assumes a national scale".

The group is working to create a system of Sanskrit-based knowledge studies that would have a positive impact on life-style of people in modern India. "We believe that India has a lot of knowledge to offer to the world. We also believe that knowledge is complete. It is constantly evolving and will keep enriching itself with the help of new research etc. Unfortunately, until now, this great repository of traditional knowledge remained concealed in archives and ancient texts. We propose to bring all that out for practical use. The HRD Ministry is working with the same goal in mind," Dr Varakhedi added.

Highlighting the need for a comprehensive approach to the project, Dr Varakhedi stressed that the whole initiative will have to be brought on the national agenda in the sense private institutions and persons will have to be brought on board with the Government. The HRD Ministry has recognised this aspect correctly," Dr Varakhedi stated.

The Bhatkar-Varakhedi-Susarla group has been actively working on the basic document that would offer a framework for the thought of pushing Indic knowledge into a Mission Mode for active and practical implementation.

Expanding practical popularity of Sanskrit

a happier and easier process. That helped us in restoring the practicality of Sanskrit as a medium of popular communication. This is a major change in popular conception about Sanskrit," Prof Vijay Kumar says.

Sanskrit Bharati has adopted a three-pronged approach to teaching-and-learning of Sanskrit: Bhasha Shikshan (Learning of Language), Shashtra Shikshan (Learning of Sciences), and Jeevan Shikshan (Learning of Life Principles and Values and Adoptable Style). "When we talk of Sanskrit as a usable mode of communication, we do not insist upon just the language. We use Sanskrit as a signature of India's pride, identity, self-respect. We follow what we call NLLP -- Natural Language Learning Process -- beyond the translational mode, and through conversational mode. We have also brought out books based on this approach," Prof Vijay Kumar says.

Sanskrit Bharati has built a good educational infrastructure of 10-day 'Sanskrit Sambhashan Shibir', 'Nirantar Sanskrit Adhyan Kendra', annual 'Bhasha Bodhan Varga', Prashikashan Varga, Patralaya Prashikashan Yojana' (on-line correspondence courses). A monthly magazine 'Sambhashan Sandesh', too, adds value to the effort. And then there is 'Sanskrit Bal Kendram' to help little kids to imbibe Sanskrit.

Prof Vijay Kumar is very energetic while talking about the connect Sanskrit Bharati has tried to establish with the schools. "The response is good. We have books also ready for standards 8, 9, 10, and 11 for school students. books for the 12th standard are under making. The effort is to promote active participation in the learning process, and we are happy about the levels we have achieved. We also work among college students with encouraging results," Prof Vijay Kumar adds.

Sanskrit Bharati's national President is Dr Gopabandhu Mishra, while Dr Shrinivasa Varakhedi is its Vice-President. Shreesh Deopujari is the national Secretary of Sanskrit Bharati. Vidarbha Regional President is Ramesh Mantri.
